[English text unavailable]

Contents

[English text unavailable] 2

[English text unavailable]

COL-102600

Hear this!

For us!

For us!

For poetry!

For poetry!

For us!

For us!

For free will!

For free will!

For us!

For literature!

Our haven!

The Panopticon!

Nowhere else but here!

Dores? That blind writer?

Three days ago, she asked me for directions to Comala Prison.

... Prison?

This is an experimental facility.

Soon, you'll see just what that means.

Jailer,

who is the ruler of this prison?

According to the agreement,

the Idealist and I represent the two factions of La Sociedad.

In light of his possible assassination,

the Congress ...

... will now be chaired by me.

What are we doing here? What even is this prison?

You are a prisoner of Comala ...

... and a guest of Manus Vindictae.

Fiction and reality are two parts of a whole.

We're trapped in a story with a predetermined ending.