COL-200800

curses from the east of the Dniester River

That navy blue color ... It's a mutant.

So that's why they've sent me here.

Something is wrong with this town.

Rayashki is a town on an island near the North Pole.

Peaceful and free from strife.

For decades, the town has prospered from mining ore.

But that ore has now run dry.

And without the ore,

Zeno will no longer support us.

Comrades, it is time to leave.

I drafted the town's ley energy map.

Here ...

We might find new resources.

This is amazing!

Are new rocks growing out of the dirt?

You found a new way out for us!

This is our last hope to protect our dreams,

and unite our people.

For our land, for our future.

Comrades, we march.
